DEMAND HABEAS CORPUS FOR ETTOR TO RELEASE

Lawyer George E. Rosser, Jr., to-day brought habeas corpus proceedings before Justice Bailey of the Supreme Judicial Court in Boston for the release from prison in Lawrence of Joseph J. Ettor and Antonio Giovannitti, who were arrested on the charge of being accessories before the fact in the murder of Annie Lo Pizzi, who was shot and killed in a strike riot.

Ettor was the strike leader and had been directing the tactics of the textile operatives from the start. He was arrested on two charges—one in connection with the murder and the other for inciting violence.

Giovannitti is the editor of an Italian paper. He made some fiery speeches during the earlier days of the strike.

REASONABLE BAIL IS DEMANDED.

The petition for the writ of habeas corpus was filed by Joseph Rosser, Jr., of Boston, the attorney of the strike leaders. The petition was filed with the clerk of the court and from there went to the justice.

In the petition it was asked that the two men be admitted to bail to reasonable amounts.

It has been claimed by the friends of the two men that they had assisted in the killing of the woman, and that it would be established by the evidence that they were not accessories before the fact in the murder of Annie Lo Pizzi.

The habeas corpus proceedings were brought following the advice of Attorney Rosser, Jr., who had been in touch with the friends of the two men.

JURY DISAGREES IN TAYLOR CASE

After discussing the case twenty-four hours, the jury which tried Paul F. Taylor, charged with the murder of a woman, failed to reach a verdict. The jury was composed of twelve men and one woman.

The jury was called in at 9:30 o'clock, after a 24-hour session, and after the case had been argued for several days.

GIRL STRIKERS DICKEN'S SHOPS

Girl strikers were today pained on foot before the seven shops still affected by the open-shop order of the skirt and cloak manufacturers of this city on January 1, the girl trade unionists joined with their shopmates in a determined effort to prevent the houses from filling their places with strikebreakers. The greatest activity displayed by the girl strikers was at the shop of the Columbia Girl Company, at No. 400 Washington street. The fair trade unionists were on hand to fight the houses, and persuade the few strikebreakers at work there to throw up the job, promptly at the stroke of 6.

Even the men pickets on duty at this point had to admit that their girl companions on the picket-line were making good, despite the cold and the snow.

Girl Striker's Story.

The month-old lockout now on in the cloak and skirt making industry of Boston still keeps 400 men and girls out of employment, although all but seven of the houses have settled with the union. Here is the story of the strike, as told by one of the picketed of the girl strikers, and making possible the maintenance of a living wage by the women members.

The strike was inaugurated by the women on January 1, following their refusal to grant a 10 per cent. increase of wages to the proprietors. "After the operators refused to finish up work pressed by the bosses and their designers, they locked us out of our city."

These same houses later sent out their embassies to offer us yearly contracts if we would break away from our union, but they have only gotten some thirty odd applicants in the last. That's why we're picketing the shops still unpicked, to keep them from getting more strike-breakers.

$5 a Week Average Pay.

"The men and women who follow our calling in Boston, even in the best of times, never work more than ten weeks during the year making up to $10 a week. It is followed by a sixteen-week period of idleness. If we are lucky, we get a few extra weeks, and then I had to live for just twenty-five weeks."

"Based on an average week's work the average pay of a cloak and skirt maker in Boston last year was less than $5. In some instances we have written contracts that married men with families to support have averaged $10 a week in the last year."

"Just this of it, I don't want to live on my own, which is what I do, except I call out the militia against the rapacious and greedy manufacturers and their agents. It's a worse empire to starve a wage-worker than it is to shoot him."

Help Already in Sight.

"But they are not going to starve us into giving up this strike. Neither are we going to desert our union. We are not, the hysteria existing as a result of the Lawrence strike, has led to the trade unionists of Boston realize that the cloak and skirt makers of this city have entered with us we have plenty of pickets."

"But I don't think the people of Boston know that right in their own city there are also thousands of men and women who are worse off than we are. They are not, and we are not going to win our rights without their help."

"Regular trade union methods of fighting."

"All Countries Paid Homage."

"When we held the one thousandth anniversary of our formation as a State in 1800, all the countries of the world paid us homage. The highest compliment that could be paid to a nation, came to us from President Taft, when in Cleveland, Ohio, he said to me, 'Dr. Wilson, I know that there is one thing that when we look into the face of a Hungarian, we know that he is a remarkable man at once.'"

BILLS IN LEGISLATURE KILL EVERETT'S POWER

The protection of life in Boston fire is to be taken out of the hands of the Boston Building Department and placed in the hands of the fire department, if the bill with the Legislature become law. The bill, which will give these bills at the expense of the city, is a direct result of the starting loss of life in Boston during the last few years. At present, the fire department has been the building department since 1908. Hundreds of complaints have been received by the Mayor and the Finance Commission in connection with the building department. As a result the Finance Commission is now completing an investigation of the department. The bill, which is now in the hands of the Legislature, is a direct result of the investigation. It will give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings. It will also give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings. It will also give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings.

Real Estate Men Act. As a result of these conditions in the department, the Real Estate Men's Association have filed bills in the House to put all the inspection and building and fire escape inspection in the hands of the fire department. The bill will also give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings. It will also give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings. It will also give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings.

Text of the Bill. The bill which would take from the Building Commission the power of inspection of the fire escapes in Boston, is House Bill No. 1112, which accompanies the bill of the fire department. It will give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings. It will also give the fire department the power to issue orders for the safety of the buildings. The "Shadder" Prophet

By MORTON BIRGE.

Today the ground-hog ventures from his cozy winter sleep. He comes into the open and he takes a lightning peep to see if he is seeing any "shadders" round about. For that's the very reason that the animal comes out.

And, if he sees a "shadder" then the ground-hog knows for sure. The winter isn't waiting but has longer to endure. Just take it from the groundhog. If you wish to lay a bet. That, if he casts a "shadder," we will have more winter yet.

The minute that he "shadders" then he ducks back down his hole. The ground-hog is too busy, and he hasn't any mind. But still he knows his lesson and he's perfectly content.

To make him in slumber till the winter shall be spent. The minute that he "shadders" then he ducks back down his hole. The ground-hog is too busy, and he hasn't any mind. But still he knows his lesson and he's perfectly content.

Don't bother with the forecast of the weatherman, or wise. His only rule is the prospect through scientific eyes. If seeking information whether winter's nearly over. Just follow up the ground-hog and his little "shadder" line.

★ CARDINAL AT GROUNDHOG MASS TO-DAY. Saw shadow.

The "groundhog" came out of his hole today, looked around, saw his shadow and went back. According to the old tradition, that's the last you'll see of him for six weeks. Also—and more important—there's a week more of winter weather.

At the Weather Bureau office they don't think anything about "groundhog" and they don't attempt to predict the weather six weeks ahead, so that's where the old story has something on the Weather Bureau.

The ancient farmers took the tip today and made ready for six weeks more of winter weather. It was not out of the question that there was any great risk of it for the farmers, and localities in the winter that was so numerous in the past. Prices stayed down.

BRANDEIS OPENS NEBRASKA TOUR

FRIMONT, Neb., Feb. 2.—Louis D. Brandeis of Boston opened his speaking tour of the Nebraska, advertising the policies of Senator La Follette. He devoted his speech mainly to denouncing the trusts. While the meeting was advertised as a La Follette rally, the reception of Mr. Brandeis had the flavor of a non-partisan affair. A dozen leading Republicans and Democrats met in conference with him.

In his speech he said that the country faces a crisis equalled in seriousness only by the Civil War, and that the only way to meet it is to take the country back to its original principles. He said that the country was in a state of anarchy and that the only way to meet it is to take the country back to its original principles.

After the meeting was adjourned, Mr. Brandeis and his party were met by a large crowd of people. He was met by a large crowd of people. He was met by a large crowd of people. He was met by a large crowd of people.

MRS. ADAMS SET FREE BY COURT

Mrs. Mary A. Adams of No. 5 Winchester street, Brookline, today was acquitted of the charge of assaulting Andrew J. Whitcomb, manager of the Herald-Examiner, of No. 120 Milk street, and his son, Miss Ida R. Tremblay, of Watertown. In the lower court Mrs. Adams was convicted and fined $400, but appealed. After today's victory she said she would press a suit for $50,000 against Whitcomb, for breach of promise.

It required but one day to try the case and the jury took a verbal verdict, which Judge Henderson opened in the Superior Criminal Court to-day.

"I know little of the political game, but I am not a politician," said Mr. Brandeis. "I know the time has come when our country must be run by lawyers men. It is more important than I want you to know. For the people must know what is going on in the world. It is more important than I want you to know. $1,000,000 LOSS IN HALIFAX FIRE

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 2.—The third big fire in Halifax within a few weeks destroyed the Woodside plant of the Acadia Sugar Refining Company, with a loss of $1,000,000. One man, an employee of the plant, is missing. It is feared that he was burned to death.

The fire started in a large wooden warehouse on the water front, where 15,000 barrels of sugar were stored. The flames made short work of this structure and along across the railway tracks to the seven-story brick building of the refinery proper. The spread of the blaze in this structure was so rapid that some of the workmen had difficulty in escaping with their lives. One of their number, a man named Henderson, is the one thought lost.

EX-NEWSBOY JUDGE OF NEWSBOYS' COURT

ELIAS A. HERSCHEMAN of Halifax, a member of the Boston Newsboys' Union, has been appointed one of the adult judges of the newly established Newsboys' Trial Board. The board came into existence about two years ago, when Mr. Herschman presented a resolution at an annual meeting of all the Boston newsboys. The board handles all the newsboy cases of boys under the age of fourteen years. Mr. Herschman is a graduate of the Bremer Grammar School, English High School and Boston University Law School. He is associated in the practice of law with John G. Gilm of Cambridge, with offices in the old North building.

MOTHER AND CHILD RESCUED FROM FIRE

A woman and child, overcome by smoke, were rescued during a fire which caused a damage of $500 in the tenement house dwelling at No. 2 Bedford street, Quincy, today. The home is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Winchester and their only child, a daughter of three years. When the fire broke out at about 10 o'clock, the mother and child fled from the burning place. The mother, who is a widow, was found by a neighbor in the street while she carried on her back the child, who was unconscious.

ARMY CAPTAIN'S WIFE A SUICIDE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Maudie Hancock, wife of Captain Seymour Hancock, commander of the Fortis in Portsmouth harbor, committed suicide at Portsmouth by swallowing chloride of mercury. Mrs. Hancock had been suffering for the last two weeks with a nervous breakdown, and a friend here has been in constant attendance upon her. Captain Hancock was absent from the fort and his wife was left alone with the nurse. The latter had seemed to leave the room, and when she returned she found Mrs. Hancock lying in a pool of blood.

QUICK FACTS FOR BUSY MEN

There is a new illustration of the saying, "seeing is believing." That illustration is found in Crook's United States History with synchromaps. With the aid of a synchromap, you can see the entire territorial, political and physical development of the United States in a single glance.

In addition, this new and carefully revised history contains reading matter of interest to the student, the professional man and to the writer and speaker. In this form of national education, the synchromaps to history of the nation are particularly valuable. They make one to see facts quickly without taking time to wade through columns after columns of cumbersome detail.

This history is thoroughly up-to-date, including the administration of President Taft into 1911.

Full new volumes of United States History are readily available by mail. It is a new and complete set of reference material in the latest edition of the series.

Red Tag Sale

This Red Tag Sale is one of the means we employ in weeding out ends and ends of seasonable merchandise that we don't want to find in stock when the spring sun rolls around. We suspend profit making for a time and pocket our losses now rather than on.

The way we do it is this: Any line of goods that is broken in quantity or size—heavy weight or seasonable goods—discontinued styles or other merchandise that we're anxious for one reason or other to get out of the way—we Red Tag it at a price that insures immediate clearance. The original white price it remains on the article—the Red Tag shows the reduction at which it is to be sold. In this way you see whole transaction—see how great the reduction is—you figure out for yourself just how much you save.

Men's $10 Suits and $10 Overcoats

Prices go down to the lowest level of the year when Red Tags get to work. Think of buying an overcoat for $5.00 or a suit and an overcoat both for the former price of the one.

But, you can't judge values from reading—one feel of the cloth is worth more than a page of reading matter. Come put your fingers on the cloth—run your eyes over the styles—examine the make, workmanship and linings—you will then know what real values are.

HOME RULE BILL PUT OUT SIMPLY AS A "FEEFER"

By C. O'CONNELL GALVIN.
The cables from London published today which give a forecast of the main features of the coming home rule bill do not contain sufficient material to warrant the forming of explicit opinion as to the full scope of the bill.

The dispatches suggest the theory that somebody has thrown out a "feefer" to draw comment from the people, both in Ireland and of England, and to obtain a glimpse of the current of public opinion.

English Cabinet Ministers are not prone to premature disclosure of government policy, and certainly Mr. John Redmond, the home rule leader, is not an amateur taking machine, especially upon a matter so filled with serious moment concerning the future prospects of his country.

There are two men qualified to speak for the forecast of events in this matter. These are Mr. Asquith, head of the English government, and Mr. Redmond, leader of the Irish party. Subordinates on either side, no matter how sound their information, may be relied upon to suggest forecasts.

Forecasts Merely Conjectures.

All those forecasts of the home rule bill published now are nothing but the mere conjectures.

Mr. Asquith has followed the progress of this movement, from the introduction of Mr. Gladstone's first bill in 1892 to the present, knowing that the provisions named in to-day's London cable contain nothing new.

The final proposals of the bill are practically identical with those made by Mr. Asquith and accepted by Mr. Redmond in 1902.

Mr. Asquith was willing to agree, and did agree, to a revision of the bill for a number of years, at the request of the Irish, and the bill was passed in 1902.

Mr. Gladstone's bill proposed that the Irish should have a separate parliament, through their own national legislature, and that the British parliament should be reduced to a number of years, at the request of the Irish, and the bill was passed in 1902.

JUAREZ REBELS PLAN TO YIELD

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 2.—There were anti-American demonstrations in Juarez today, every American appearing upon the streets there being insulted by the insurgents who deserted from the Federal armies and took possession of the city. The insurgents also showed their arms in the streets to the United States soldiers being detained there. Two wounded Americans are in the hospital here and one man died. News satellites in the city have been reported to have been killed by the insurgents.

13 MEN PERISH IN SUBMARINE

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Feb. 2.—Thirteen men, eleven sailors and two officers, perished today when the British submarine A-5 was sunk in collision with the British battleship, Hazard, off the Isle of Wight. The accident occurred at Portsmouth, where the submarine A-5 went down with a loss of thirteen lives some time ago. The sharp end of the Hazard stove a big hole in the submarine and she settled so rapidly that the men on board could not get out.

FIRE DAMAGES PARISH HOUSE

The parish house of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Kingston, at Hingham, was badly damaged by fire early today. A woman, who suffered smoke from the fire, was rescued by a fireman. The fire started in the kitchen, and spread to the parlor and the whole interior of the building was damaged. The origin of the fire is unknown and the damage is estimated at $2,500.

NEW YORK GIRLS IN FIRE PANIC

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—One thousand girls and boys in the eleven-story Church Building, extending from No. 19 to 25 West Eighteenth street to No. 22 and 24 West Nineteenth street, were thrown to a panic today by a fire on the seventh story of the structure. Scores of persons were hurled in the rush down stairways and for elevators. The rescue from the West Twenty-third street station quickened the hysterical girls.

WHAT WORRY DOES

Compelled With Overwork It Will Cause a Complete Nervous Breakdown.

A little worry does a great deal of harm. Overwork and worry give rise to nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, lack of ambition, lack of interest in your work, weak back, indigestion, sometimes a complete breakdown of the nervous system. If these are your symptoms, you need a tonic. The best way to tone the nerves is through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a direct nerve tonic because they enrich and build up the blood. Under their tonic influence nervousness and all the other evils of worry and overwork quickly disappear. They restore the digestion and enable the body to take full advantage from the food eaten.

Mrs. C. W. Needles, of No. 125 Grube Road, Springfield, Ohio, says: "I was all run down and felt miserable for six years. I was nervous and would tremble like a leaf when excited. I had no appetite and was troubled with gas on my stomach after eating. I did not have any color. Occasionally I had sick headaches and dizzy spells, which I think were caused by my stomach being out of order. I felt tired and exhausted most of the time, had no strength and no ambition to work and wanted to be alone. A friend told me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She said they had done much for her. I used them with great satisfaction for they permanently cured me. I have no more trouble with my stomach, my cheeks have a good color and I have more than regained my lost weight. I certainly can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the one true tonic. They are guaranteed to be free from any harmful or habit-forming drugs. They have won the most gratifying results in nervous headache, neuritis, nervous dyspepsia, St. Vitus' dance and even in partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. For a full statement of this treatment write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System, Their Nature, Symptoms and Treatment." Send today, a postal card will do.

Start today to cure yourself with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, upon receipt of price, 50c per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FILIPINOS END STORMY SESSION

MANILA, Feb. 2.—After a stormy all-night meeting, the Legislative Assembly took final adjournment at 5 o'clock this morning, the second session of the second Legislature. Because of squabbling between the House and Senate, only a few bills have been passed by the Assembly, and many important measures are still outstanding.

CLINTON, Feb. 2.—Jumping to the ground from a tree, a man was struck and killed by a falling tree. The man was a chopper, and was working on a tree when it fell on him.

SELLING OUT PREPARATORY TO ENLARGING OUR STORE

It is the only recourse we have. Our store is to be torn out completely and business must be suspended on entire first floor until alterations are finished.

Our business can no longer be handled in our present quarters, as large as they are. We have grown so rapidly in Boston that we have been obliged to take over the store adjoining ours on Temple Place, and when alterations are completed we will have the handsomest establishment of its kind in Boston.

But before the work can actively go on we must sell out everything, no matter at what cost. We have only a limited time in which to do this. It is a pity to cut prices so recklessly as we have, but it's a case of MUST. If you will visit our store you will be astounded at the bargains that will meet your gaze. You know that we never indulge in sensational advertising, but there is a time for everything. THIS SALE IS POSITIVELY THE MOST SENSATIONAL ONE OF ITS KIND YOU EVER HEARD OF. Read these prices—then come and see the merchandise that these trifling sums will buy! You'll be more than amazed!

RULE OF THIS SALE: No Mail, Phone, C. O. D. or Charge Orders taken. Goods exchanged only on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Alterations charged for at cost.
